

Restraint injuries

Dr Jason Payne-James

Jason Payne-James is an independent Specialist in Forensic and Legal Medicine with a range of research and clinical interests. From a clinical perspective he has been a Forensic Medical Examiner with the Metropolitan Police Service in London, UK for over 25 years. Previously he worked in hospital medicine, predominantly in surgical and gastroenterological specialties. His clinical and research interests include clinical and ethical aspects of healthcare in custody, injury documentation, forensic evidence collection, restraint and less-lethal systems, harm and death in custody and torture. He has published peer-reviewed research on a wide range of subjects including healthcare in custody, torture, death in custody, use-of-force, Taser®, photo-documentation and irritant spray. He acts as an expert witness in these areas. He has reviewed many deaths in custody on behalf of families, coroners, the IPCC, PPO, legal teams and others.

Jason is Honorary Clinical Senior Lecturer at Cameron Forensic Medical Sciences, Barts & the London School of Medicine & Dentistry, UK. He is Honorary Consultant in Emergency Medicine at St George's Hospital, London, UK. He is external Consultant to the UK National Crime Agency and National Injuries Database. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Forensic & Legal Medicine. He is current President of the Faculty of Forensic & Legal Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians. He is an independent member of the Scientific Advisory Committee on the Medical Implications of Less-Lethal Weapons.

Jason has co-authored & co-edited a number of publications including the 1st and 2nd edition of the Encyclopedia of Forensic & Legal Medicine; Forensic Medicine: Clinical & Pathological Aspects; Symptoms and Signs of Substance Misuse (1st, 2nd & 3rd editions); he is lead author of the 13th Edition of Simpson's Forensic Medicine (the 14th edition is in production); he co-authored the Oxford Handbook of Forensic Medicine and co-edited Age Estimation in the Living and Current Practice in Forensic Medicine (the 2nd volume is shortly to be published). He is co-editing a new book – 'Monitoring Detention, Custody, Torture and Ill-treatment'.